Virtual Tour App For An Art Gallery

SEWMINI DE SILVA

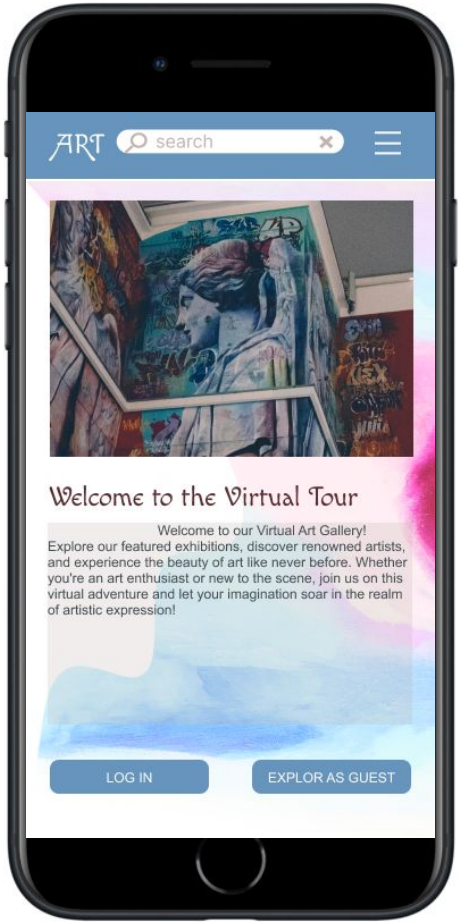
Project overview

The product:

Virtual Tour App for an art gallery

Project duration:

December 2023 to June 2024



Project overview

The problem:

In Sri Lanka, many people are interested in art, but not many visit art galleries. Getting to a physical gallery has been a problem for most art lovers, for a lot of reasons such as time, location, and accessibility..

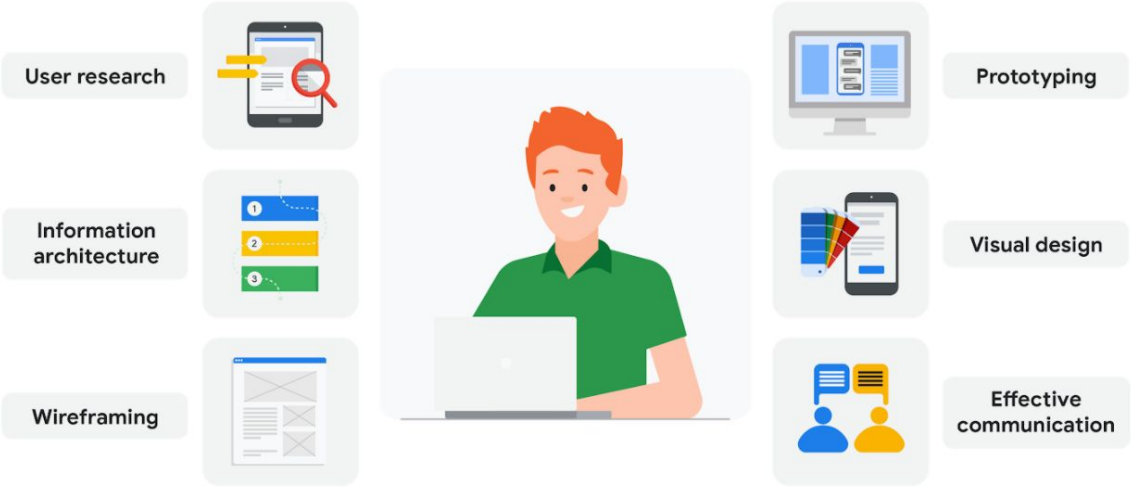
The goal:

goal was to create a virtual tour app that allows users to explore and appreciate art from the comfort of their homes, providing an immersive and educational experience that replicates the feeling of walking through a physical gallery.

Project overview

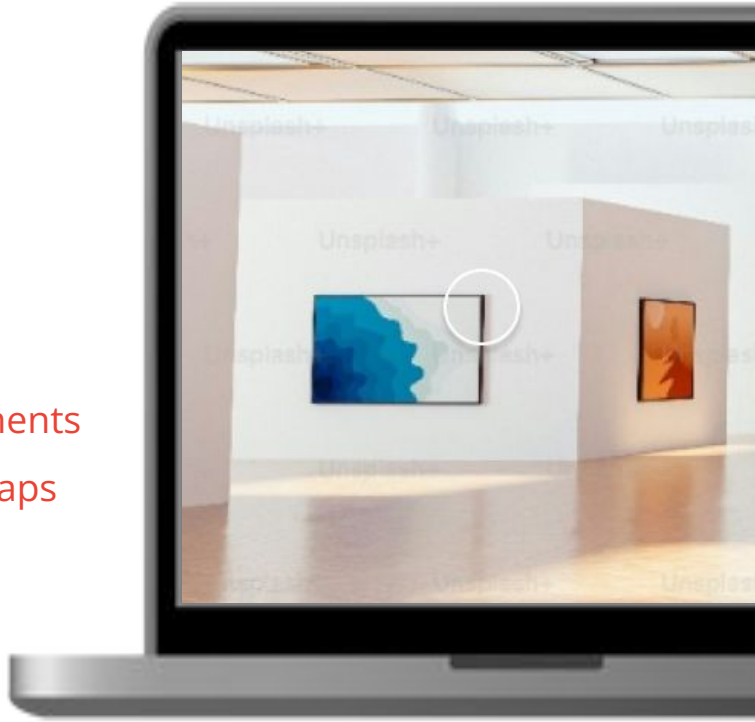
My role:

In this project, I managed the entire design process from beginning to end.



Understanding the user

- User research
- Personas
- Problem statements
- User journey maps



User research: pain points

struggles to find information about art exhibitions and artists.

This underscores the importance of integrating a comprehensive and easily navigable database of exhibitions and artists within the app.

limited access to art galleries due to physical and geographical constraints.

This emphasizes the necessity of making art accessible to those with physical limitations and living in remote areas.

Persona: AMHAR

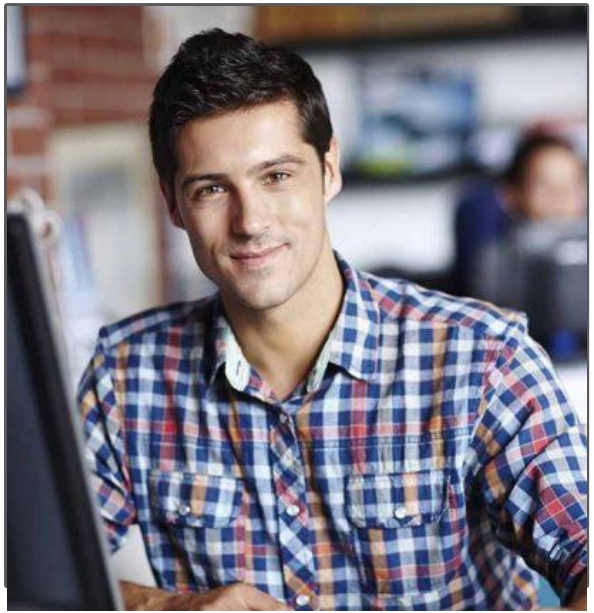
Problem statement:

Amhar is a busy software engineer intern who needs a convenient way to access and learn about art exhibitions and artists because his tight schedule and remote location limit his ability to visit galleries.



Amhar

Age: 23
Education: Software engineer undergraduate Hometown: colombo
hobbies: Traveling and hiking,visiting art galleries
Occupation: Software engineer Intern

"I love art, but it can be hard to find the time to visit art galleries. A virtual tour app would be a great way for me to learn more about art and experience different cultures without having to travel."

Goals

- To learn more about art and different cultures
- To be able to visit art galleries all over the world without having to travel
- To have a convenient and enjoyable way to experience art

Frustrations

- He is busy with work and doesn't have a lot of time to travel.
- He lives in a small town and doesn't have access to many art galleries.
- He has a hard time finding information about art galleries and exhibits.

Amhar is a software Intern who loves art. He is particularly interested in learning about different cultures and art forms from around the world. However, Amhar is also busy with work and lives in a small town, so he doesn't have a lot of time to travel to art galleries.

Persona: SARA

Problem statement:

Sarah is a retired art teacher who needs a way to stay connected to the art world and continue learning about new artists and exhibitions because her physical limitations and rural location prevent her from visiting art galleries regularly.

sara

Age: 45
Education: graduated
Hometown: Kandy
Hobbies: Visiting art gallery,travelling
Occupation: Retired art teacher

"I love art, and I'm always looking for new ways to learn about it. A virtual tour app for art galleries would be a great way for me to stay connected to the art world and share my love of art with others."

Goals

- To stay connected to the art world and continue to learn about new artists and exhibitions
- To share her love of art with others
- To be able to visit art galleries all over the world without having to travel

Frustrations

- She has limited mobility due to arthritis.
- She lives in a rural area and doesn't have access to many art galleries.
- She has a limited income and can't afford to travel to art galleries as often as she would like.

Sarah is a retired art teacher who loves visiting art galleries. She is particularly interested in learning about new artists and exhibitions, and she enjoys sharing her love of art with others. However, Sarah has limited mobility due to arthritis, and she lives in a rural area without access to many art galleries.

Vase With Fifteen Sunflowers

Van Gogh's iconic sunflower paintings were a departure from his earlier, darker style. Inspired by new paint colors, he created vibrant still lifes of sunflowers in Arles, France. These paintings were intended to welcome his friend Paul Gauguin and symbolize hope and gratitude. While they are celebrated for their beauty, Van Gogh himself saw them as a contrast to his more anguished works.

Van Gogh in Sri Lanka
The "Van Gogh in Sri Lanka" exhibition at the Sky Gallery turned out to be a phenomenon. Originally showcasing high-quality reproductions of Van Gogh's paintings for free, the unexpected popularity overwhelmed the organizers.
Over 500 visitors a day, including young and old, science students, and even doctors, came from all corners of Sri Lanka. The exhibition resonated deeply, sparking conversations about mental health and the importance of appreciating art in the present.

Would love features like AR filters to virtually "place" the art in my own home or a 360° view to feel more immersed.

Takeaways

What I learned:

As this was my first project, there were a lot of things new to me. It’s in this project that not only has my design capability improved, but I have also had the chance to realize deeply how iterative design is and thus am looking forward to applying these lessons in future projects
